Armed Forces Covenant

The Methodist Church has signed the Armed Forces Covenant pledging its commitment to the fair treatment and support of all in the Armed Forces community including regulars, reserves, veterans, and their families. The signing took place at Methodist Church House on Tuesday. You can read more about the Covenant here.

Call for stateless rights

A new initiative calling for improved rights for 'stateless' people has been backed by faith leaders including the Rev Loraine N Mellor, President of the Methodist Conference. You can read the statement here.

Alcohol minimum pricing

The UK Supreme Court has ruled it legal for Scotland to introduce minimum unit pricing (MUP), a policy which targets harmful and hazardous alcohol consumption. JPIT, the Joint Public Issues Team, has published a briefing explaining minimum unit pricing, why it is necessary and calls upon individuals and churches to encourage England to follow Scotland's example. You can read the briefing here.

Prayer for the Persecuted Church

This year's International Day of Prayer for the Persecuted Church takes place on Sunday November 19. The event calls us to pray for the immediate release of Christian prisoners of faith in Eritrea, including 173 who have been detained for more than 10 years. You can read more and find free resources here.

Legacy giving

Celebrating life begins and ends with God. If you would like more information about making a lasting gift to the Methodist Church in Britain or overseas, call in confidence on 020 7467 5251 or email: leavealegacy@methodistchurch.org.uk
